TIME: Evening, June, 1958.

PLACE: Living room of a modest home.

CHARACTERS: Ouampi, Mrs. Ouampi (formerly Ouahama) and their son Tommy Hawk.

Ouampi (the Spirit of Omaha U ) is married to a college classmate, Ouahama. They have a little son, Tommy Hawk (the Continuing Spirit of Omaha U ). One evening Ouampi and his wife started to plan for Tommy's future education while watching him play with his blocks on the floor. Then they began to think back . . .

JR. PROM

It was our first date!

To the music of Eddy Haddad and his Orchestra, the annual Junior Prom got under way at Peony Park on the 21st of March, 1952. At intermission time, Joanne Larkin was crowned Junior Prom Queen. Other candidates included Patsy Cahow, Marcia Jourdan, Syntha Judd, Charlotte Longville and Marilyn Sibert.

Juniors serving on committees for the Prom were Donna Edstrand, Syntha Judd, Howard Olson, Ray Hampton and Jim Townsend. Also serving on committees were Marilyn Sibert, Patsy Cahow, Joanne Larkin, Paula Diehl and Merlyn Fratt.

Marx and Smith look at Bloxom and Hanson, the center of confusion.

March 28th and 29th saw the production of the University Players Spring play "John Loves Mary." The three act comedy by Norman Krasna starred Del Hanson and Elaine Bloxom in the title roles, with Bonny Burgess, Dick Smith, Don Blocker, and Jack Frost in the supporting parts. Other supporting players included Leaneore Marx, Jack Dunlevy, Jim McPherson and Ben Butler, while Bill Pierson was stage manager. Chairmen of the play committees were Bob Hanson, make-up; Anita Reznichuk, props; and Phil Abramson, publicity. The production was directed by Dr. Edwin Clark, dramatics professor.

The lights burned all night as truckload after truckload of workers went out from flood headquarters in the Student Lounge.

University women also volunteered their services and in one 12 hour period over 15,000 sandwiches were made in the home ec. lab. The dike workers were not to go hungry.

SPRING CONCERT

Bonnie Coleman dances to
"Artistry in Blue"

Orchesis presented "Dance Through the Ages" as their Spring Concert at the University Auditorium on April 25, 1952.

The program was divided into two distinct parts, the first depicting the history of dance and the second being an abstract interpretation of the mind of an unstable young girl.

The first part of the program showed the styles of the primitives, Greeks, European folk dancers, and European court dancers. The polished gestures of the aristocratic dances were expressed in the Pavane, Gigue, Sarabande, and the Minuet.

Dancing in the American style was shown in the "American Folk Suite," which included three parts. "Prayer in De Key" was danced by Jean Janzan and sung by Terry Young. The melancholy mood of "Allentown Jail" was danced by Alyce Beachler to the singing of Helen Tiahr. Terry Young again sang while Beverly Brandt danced "Honor, Honor." Bonnie Coleman danced to "Artistry in Blue" by Stan Kenton to explain the development of progressive music.

The second part of the program presented Jane Englehardt, who played the part of a person unable to accept the challenge of reality while the other Orchesis members showed the working of her mind, her problems and the resulting indecision from her instability. Finally at the depth of her despair her remembrances and then her dreams gave her hope of what might still possibly be gained.

ORCHESIS Modern Dance Group

Modern dance is a means of artistic communication which makes use of the whole body in expressive movement. It includes training and conditioning, so that the body will be able to respond to the dancer's demands. This increasingly creative communication is embodied in Orchesis, the selective, honorary modern dance group on campus.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Mary Lou Niebling, Orchesis has participated not only in weekly dance instruction, but also in such things as an Indian dance during Homecoming half-time ceremonies and a specialty number, "The Street Scene," in the first annual Sport Show at Tech High.

The Spring Dance Concert made up of modern dance, was initiated as an annual program. Other special appearances during the year included a dance recital performed for the Norfolk Women's Club, and a show on the TV Classroom series.

Serving as officers for 1952-53 were Alyce Beachler, president; Joan Olsen, secretary; and Derelle Blumer, publicity director.

Since modernism is the popular trend, Orchesis is finding more of a place for itself on campus.

The "Get out and vote" campaign inspired by the national interest in the presidential elections, increased the number of voters in the OU elections of 1952.

Posters and people dressed in costumes, plus the pleas of Igor the Great Dane, swayed the students to the following decisions. The new Student Council members were seniors Ray Hampton, Irv Jones, Syntha Judd, and Marilyn Sibert; juniors Larry Brehm, Merlyn Fratt, Derelle Blumer, and Phyllis Wilke; sophomores Jerry Tannahill, Gerald Welling, Joanne Gross, and Joan Willey. Freshmen Council members were elected in the fall.

The two new elected members of the Board of Student Publications were Joanne Larkin and Burt McMillan. Though the secret was kept until Ma-i-e Day, Gloria Johnson had been elected Princess Attira XVIII. A special write-in vote showed that the students were favorable to the proposed Student Union though it was still very much in the planning stage.

The Student Council, as the elected representatives of the student body, form a link between them and the faculty and administration. The duties of the Student Council include supervising the activities of school organizations and sponsoring most of the major campus activities.

Last year, the Student Council closed the spring semester as usual by sponsoring the annual Junior Prom and the Ma-ie Day election and festivities.

How could we ever forget the Ma-ie Day elections, with the eight foot owls, dogs . . . and remember the girls who wore boxes over their heads or fancy costumes?

The Student Council began their fall duties by directing the preparations for Homecoming, the Freshman Mixer, and the Freshman Talent Show, and by sponsoring the fall play which was, this year, the comedy "Goodbye, My Fancy."

Other activities sponsored by the Student Council during the year included the Sophomore Cotillion, "Anything Goes," which was this year's Tom-Tom Revue, and less colorful but equally necessary activities such as the all-school elections and the Campus Chest drive, conducted annually to collect funds for the Omaha Community Chest, the Red Cross and the World Student Service Fund.

The Student Council

The Student Council also serves as a clearing ground for student suggestions and sponsors such events, beside those already mentioned, as the annual Dad's Day, held during the football season and the Coffee Hours, held approximately once a month in the faculty clubroom. The Coffee Hours are planned jointly by faculty member Paul Beck and by a representative of the Student Council and have included, this year, talks by David Goitoin, the minister to the United States from Israel, members of the faculty and discussions by student panels.

Oh yes, Mr. Goitoin gave a fascinating talk that day.

The Student Council president for 1952-53 was Ray Hampton and the vice-president, Merlyn Fratt. Joan Willey served as secretary and Derelle Blumer as treasurer.

Members of the Student Council:

Seniors: Ray Hampton, Syntha Judd, Irv Jones, Marilyn Sibert.

Juniors: Merlyn Fratt, Phyllis Wilke, Larry Brehm, Derelle Blumer.

Sophomores: Joan Willey, Joanne Gross, Pat Cosford, Jerry Tannahill, Jerry Welling.

Board of Student Publications and Publications Business Staff

Publications at the University were directed again this year by the Board of Student Publications. The Board was made up of appointed and elected students and members of the faculty. In the spring elections Joanne Larkin and Burton McMillan were elected to serve on the Board along with Larry Boersma, Tomahawk editor, and Bob Benecke, publications business manager. Faculty members were Miss Hollie Bethel, Clifford Ellis, Mrs. Mildred Gearhart, Ernie Gorr, Charles Hoff, and Robert McGranahan.

All business transactions dealing with publications at the University were handled by the business staff. Heading the staff was Bob Benecke, business manager, who was assisted by Ken Borchert, circulation manager, and Bill McVicker, advertising manager.

'Joe College' Dance

Two new innovations showed themselves on OU's campus the night of the "Joe College" dance. The annual event, sponsored by the Feathers, women's pep organization, was the first dance held on the front steps of the administration building. Hungry appetites were satisfied after the dance by the first pizza feed which was held in the shack.

Highlight of the evening was the crowning of "Joe College" during the dance intermission. Don West, 6 foot 1 Theta Chi, was the tenth "Joe College" to be picked at OU. He was crowned with a red baseball cap by Mrs. Mary Padou Young. All girls present at the dance were entitled to vote.

Lights were strung across the steps and attached to the building's wings. Music was by record via an amplifying system.

Feathers

The annual election to choose a "Joe College" is sponsored by the Feathers organization. For the last Joe College Dance, Feathers introduced a new dance site—the front walk of the University, with temporary strings of lights arranged especially for the occasion. Jo Ann Doyle headed the planning committee for this year's event.

The Feathers are the Omaha University chapter of Phi Sigma Chi, national honorary service organization for upper class college women. The members can be seen at most of the school's major extra-curricular activities, comprising a cheering section at football and basketball games. They are now wearing new uniforms, chosen at one of the first meetings last fall. They consist of a red skirt, white sweater, and black dickey, keeping the traditional red and black colors of the University.

The fall rush tea, held in the Faculty Club Room of the University, started the year's activities, and was followed by a formal pledging and buffet dinner on October 26 to present the 27 selected girls with their red pledge feathers.

Feathers usher at various University functions and convocations and participate in planning and conducting pep rallies and half-time activities at the football games.

Officers for this year were Shirley Swahn, president; Mary Svach, vice president; Catherine Lampert, recording secretary; Dixie Clark, corresponding secretary; Virginia Bosanac, treasurer; Joyce Sundsboe, inter-pep representative; and Dorothy Ruby, publicity chairman.

Miss Vera Duerschner and Dr. Frances Holliday are sponsors for the organization.

'Twas the Night Before MA-IE DAY

... In the grey light of dawn, the last worker laid down his hammer and we said, "Our float's finished!"

The all-night session working on the floats is becoming as traditional as the Ma-ie Day breakfast and the crowning of the princess. This year, because of bad weather, the breakfast was served in the cafeteria and Gloria Johnson was crowned Princess Attira XVIII from the stage of the auditorium.

Later, the skies cleared enough to allow the parade to proceed and that afternoon the organizational skits were presented in the auditorium. At 9:00 that night, the annual Ma-ie Day dance was held at Peony Park and the winners of the float and skit contests were announced.

May 12 can very well serve as the focal point for victories at Omaha University in all of the Spring Sports.

Eleven wins in fourteen encounters marks success on the record books for the Indian diamond crew. Under the supervision of Mentor Thurmon Johnson, the baseballers took little mercy on some of their more potent competition with scores like 14 to 1 against Morningside on May 12, 9 to 1 over Augustana, and 9 to 0 over Creighton.

Rounding out their last season much to the disadvantage of the OU ball and bat department were Pitchers Bud Bridenbaugh and Gary Penisten, outfielder Johnny Potts, and infielder Larry Michiels.

TENNIS

Coach Don Pflasterer's netters sparked as the brightest spot of the spring sports program. The Indian racketeers scored 12 victories to 2 defeats to compile an impressive .857 average for the season.

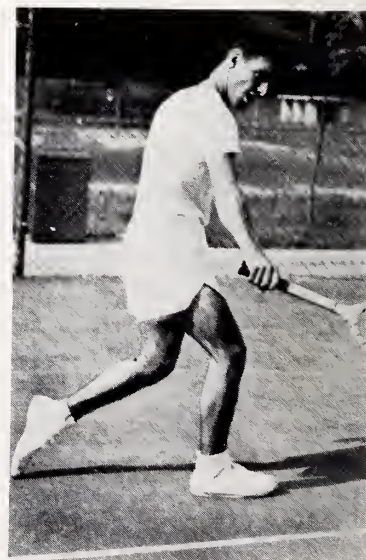

Included in the team's victories were wins over Nebraska University, one a 6-1 rout in the opening match of the season, and the other, a 4-3 victory on May 12, two impressive victories over Creighton and a 6-1 romp past Iowa State.

Fred Pisasale, four year letterman, who served two of those years as Captain of the net squad, finished his fourth year on the OU tennis courts. Pisasale had an amazing accumulative four year record of 48 wins and five losses in singles competition and a 49-4 won-lost record in doubles action.

GOLF

The Indian linksmen got off to a poor start this season, losing four straight matches before tasting victory. But after winning one and losing their fifth encounter in six starts, Coach John Campbell's pupils found themselves and scored 12 straight victories. On May 12 the golfers downed Nebraska 15½ to 2½. The linksmen wound up the season with a 13 won, 5 lost record and an average of .722.

Standouts on Campbell's golf team were Dean Wilson and Bob Lindberg who fought it out nip and tuck throughout the season for top laurels. Competition ended with Wilson slightly out-matching Lindberg by winning 13 to Lindberg's 12 out of 17 matches.

On May 12 the Indians scored 89 points, romping past both Peru and Morningside in a triangular meet held in OU's stadium.

Despite a wet season the Indian trackmen accumulated a .625 season's average with five victories and three defeats in the combined indoor and outdoor standings. Besides the eight meets in which scores were kept, the thinclads also competed in the Kansas, Wayne, Sioux City and Doane Relays.

In the Wayne relays Roger Dunbier, freshman stalwart, ended in a three-way tie for first place in the high jump with a leap of 5' 11".

The OU relay team set a new school record at the Sioux City relays. The team composed of Jerry Tannahill, Charles Hays, Bob Schropp and Joe Nalty ran the relay in 1:31.4.

Joe Nalty won the hundred yard dash in all three relays. His best time was registered at Doane when he set a new OU record and a new Doane relay record by running the 100 in :09.9.

Women's Spring Sports

The finale for spring sports focused on May 12 when the annual Spring Honors Banquet was held in the House and Garden Room of the Blackstone Hotel.

After a speech by Miss Elvira Christiansen, former President of the Nebraska Physical Education Association, a traveling trophy was presented to Chi Omega, elected the outstanding team in women's athletic competition. Plaques for individual championships were presented and OUWI officers for the ensuing year were revealed. They were Gayle Fried, president; Beverly Petersen, vice-president; Joan Thorson, secretary-treasurer; and Jane Andersen, publicity chairman.

The gun sounded on February 11 starting both the first basketball game and the first phase of 1952 women's spring sports. When the rumble of sneaker-clad feet finally subsided, the victory cry rose from the Unaffiliated teammates as they downed Chi Omega for the fourth straight year and again assumed possession of the basketball championship.

Archery was the center of attraction in the early part of March when the marksmanship of Daris Akerstrom netted her top honors in the OUWI bow and arrow department. A colorful and festive square dance sponsored by OUWI was also held in the early part of March in the University auditorium.

The final days of March saw Nancy Will defeat all challengers in table tennis competition.

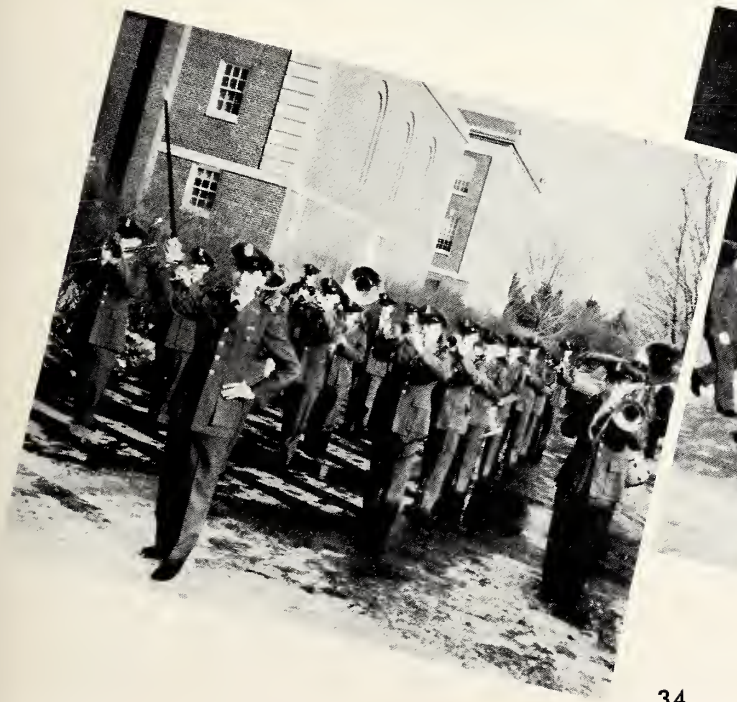

The beginning of April found Shirley White and Irene Lister in the winners circle for their respective victories in tennis and golf.

On April 5 five Omaha high schools attended the annual playday sponsored by the Women's Athletic Department and the annual college playday, attended by women from nine Nebraska State colleges, was held on April 26.

AF ROTC

Military Ball

One of the highlights of the ROTC year was the University's first Military Ball.

Following the Inspection the Military Ball was held at Peony Park under the command of Cadet Colonel Robert Darrah. Cadet officers and members of the Angels Flight participated in the Grand March.

Marilyn Sibert was elected Honorary Colonel by members of the Arnold Air Society and took command of festivities at intermission ceremonies.

Another highlight of the spring semester was the Federal Inspection. The Inspection was held May 15 and 16 with officers from the Tenth Air Force conducting a review of the cadets after watching the Wing under the command of Cadet Colonel Robert Stryker parade in the football stadium. The officers also inspected administrative and teaching techniques of the ROTC facilities at the University.

With the close of the spring semester, the 470th Air Force Cadet Wing ended its first year on the Omaha University campus. It was a year for which both instructors and cadets could be justly proud as it saw an unorganized unit blossom into a well trained, impressive wing in the space of a few short months.

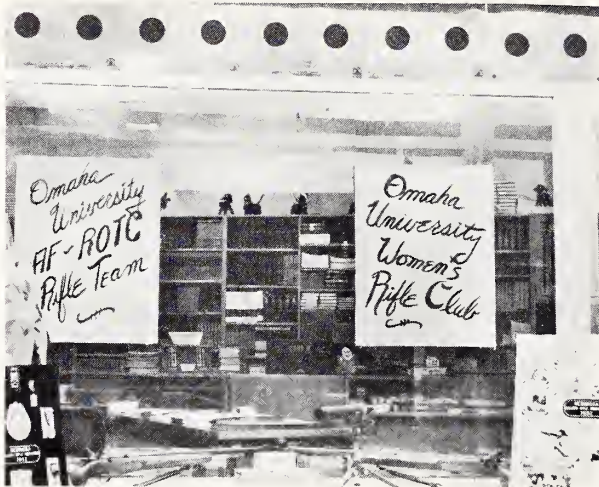

With the coming of summer, forty-five advanced cadets received four week camp assignments. Three groups of fifteen cadets began training June 23 at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas; Lowry Air Force Base, Colorado and Rapid City Air Force Base, South Dakota. While at camp the cadets received regular base pay of an airman, plus food and quarters. They received instruction in flight training, marksmanship, leadership, drill, athletics and other military subjects.

Men's and Women's Rifle Teams

The AF-ROTC unit began its second year at Omaha U. a considerably larger organization. Cadet enrollment increased from 300 to almost 700 men and brought additions to the permanent personnel of the Air Force staff. Quarters for the expanding unit were added in the west wing of the first floor for administrative and class work and in the Fieldhouse for supply purposes.

Along with other activities of the ROTC department, a rifle team was organized and directed by Master Sergeant William Swink as an extra curricular activity for all marksmen enrolled in the ROTC program. The team held matches and practice sessions on a rifle range that was constructed under the stands of the football stadium. Results of the first year's competition saw the team finish third in the Intercity League with fourteen wins against seven losses and a percentage average of .9260 for all points fired in competition. High scorers for the year were Frank Sedlacek, who took first place in the prone, sitting and kneeling positions; Gilbert Davis, who was high man in all four positions and also took first place in the standing position, and Darrel Cox, who fired the highest individual score for one match.

During the year the team competed with club teams from the Omaha area, other college and university teams and reserve service teams.

Besides the regular rifle team, a girls' rifle team was organized under the direction of the ROTC department. The team practiced on the Fieldhouse range and held matches with various teams in the city. Officers for the rifle club were Jo Thorson, president; Bette Ann Poska, vice-president; and Ruth Wachinek, secretary. Team members were Gayle Anderson, Janet Anderson, Marianne Bowley, Kay Harrington, Marilyn Herbes, Rae Johnson, Ruth Longville, Jo Anne Sedlacek and Pat Vorel.

Arnold Air Society

The Earl S. Hoag Squadron of the Arnold Air Society, a national fraternal organization of Advanced Air Force ROTC students, climaxed its first year of organization on the campus with the first annual Military Ball on May 18, 1952 at Peony Park Ballroom. Highlights of the ball were the presentation of the Honorary Colonel, Miss Marilyn Sibert, and the promotion of two cadet officers, Robert Darrah and Robert Stryker, to the rank of Colonel. Tony Pastor and his orchestra played for the ball.

The charter membership of the society was increased in the fall when 74 advanced cadets were pledged into the organization. Initiation ceremonies took place on December 7, 1952.

The unit gained national recognition in two fields at the society's national conclave in Los Angeles during Thanksgiving vacation. Next year's national convention will be held on the Omaha U campus. Also, the name "Angels," was adopted for all coed affiliates of other Arnold Air Society squadrons.

Omaha delegates flying to the convention were Jack Katz, the Society's commanding officer, and Robert Biegel, its executive officer.

The Junior Jets, sponsored by the Arnold Air Society, had a full year of activities. A program was held before Homecoming game at which time 300 Junior Jets—sixth, seventh, and eighth grade boys and girls interested in aviation and sports—were awarded their wings for being active in the organization for a year. They attended football and basketball games as guests of the University. Meetings were held prior to each game.

The Arnold Society also sponsors the Angels, an honorary coed flight. The two groups assist each other in projects during the year climaxed by the joint sponsorship of the Military Ball.

The Society also has an active part in the Explorer Scout program.

Officers for the 1952-53 school year were Commanding Officer, Jack Katz; Executive Officer, Robert Biegel; Operations Officer, Ray Hampton; Adjutant Recorder, James Wright; Treasurer, Kenneth Kremers; Publications Officer, Fred Bantin; Public Relations Officer, Burt McMillan; and Athletic Officer, Robert Schropp.

Angels Flight

The Angels Flight, co-ed auxiliary organization of the Arnold Air Society achieved national status this year. The Angels Flight was adoted as the name for all co-ed associate groups at the Arnold Air Society convention in Los Angeles in November.

The Angels of the University of Omaha organized a drill squad and performed on television and at various Air Force functions. In addition to these activities, the Flight aided Air Force personnel in the planning of the annual Military Ball. Angel Marilyn Sibert was named the first Honorary Colonel of the unit.

Co-sponsoring the Junior Jets, pep organization composed of grade school boys and girls, was another of the Angels' activities.

The Angels learned about Air Force customs and the role of the Air Force wife during their weekly meetings. Dinner meetings featured Air Force officers from Offutt Air Force Base.

Flight Leader Phyllis Wilke brought more fame to the OU Angels when she christened the United Air Lines Convair. Other officers of the Angels Flight were Bonnie Coleman, operations officer; Derelle Blumer, adjutant recorder; Ruth Longville, comptroller; Marilyn Summers, public relations; and Joyce Johnson, publications.

All-School Sing

Amid late spring showers and mild confusion the annual All-School Sing co-sponsored by ODK and Waokiya, developed into an expected enjoyable evening.

After abandoning the University's front steps when rain began to fall, the audience and performers finally gathered in the Women's P. E. Hut.

It was 45 minutes before we got settled at last in the P. E. Hut!

The Chi Omega chorus won the women's division of the competition. Alpha Xi Delta and Zeta Tau Alpha took second and third place honors respectively.

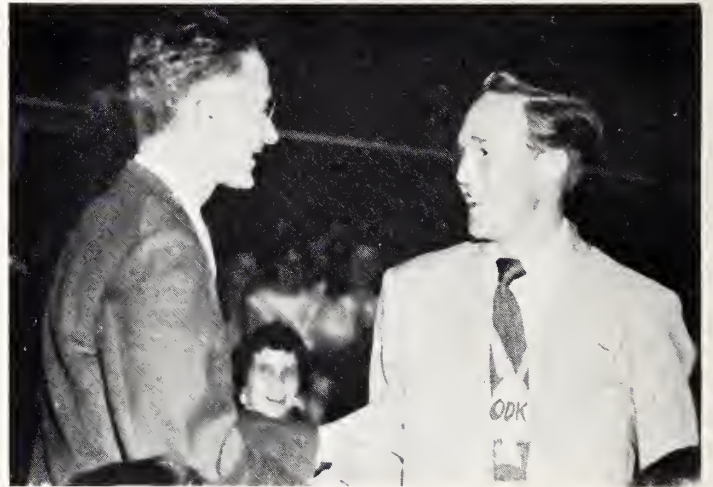

PiKA gained the top position in the men's division.

The tapping ceremonies of Waokiya and ODK followed the sing competition.

WAOKIYA

Senior Women's Honorary Society

The 1952 spring tapping ceremony of Waakiya was held at the annual All-School Sing which is co-sponsored by this group and Omicron Delta Kappa, the men's honorary leadership fraternity. Two of the girls tapped at that time were seniors and therefore were unable to participate in the 1952-53 activities. They were Charlotte Weinberg and Nancy Will. Marilyn Cowger, also tapped, entered medical school at the end of the year.

Waakiya is a relatively new honorary society for outstanding senior women. This year the membership included seven seniors and five faculty members.

The activities for 1952-53 included a tea for interested women in the sophomore and junior classes. The purpose of the tea was to inform the girls about the group and the qualifications necessary to be tapped.

Waakiya membership is based on leadership or activities as well as scholarship. Besides being in the top 35% of all women in their class, these women must be active members of several activities such as social, religious, or professional groups, dramatics, journalism, student council, honorary clubs, or athletics.

Officers for the year were Jane Hoff, president; Leonore Marx, vice-president; Joanne Larkin, secretary; and Mrs. Mildred Gearhart, treasurer. Faculty sponsor is Mrs. Mary Padou Young. Faculty members are Miss Margaret Killian, Dr. Frances Holliday, Dr. Nell Ward, and Mrs. Gearhart.

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA

Senior Men's Honorary Fraternity

In May, Omicron Delta Kappa collaborated with Waakiya, senior women's honorary leadership society, in sponsoring the annual All-School Sing. New members were tapped into the group at that time. Robert Kundel, spring tappee, was unable to participate in 1952-53 because he had left school.

ODK, national senior men's leadership-honorary society, was established on the Omaha U campus on May 20, 1950. The purpose of the organization is to recognize men who have attained a high standard of proficiency in collegiate activities and to encourage others to strive for conspicuous attainments along similar lines, to create solidarity between student and faculty members, and to bring together representative members in all phases of college life.

Men who are tapped into ODK must qualify for membership by contributing outstanding work in one of five major fields: scholarship; social and religious organizations; athletics; publications; or speech, music, and the dramatic arts.

The Omaha chapter acted as host to the General Council of ODK in December, 1952.

Fall tapping ceremonies brought in Dale Womer, Robert Rubenstein, William Duffack, and faculty members Paul Beck and Don Pflasterer.

Officers for the year were Douglas Alford, president; Don Hansen, vice-president; and Harry Rice, secretary-treasurer. John Lucas was faculty sponsor.

The Board of Regents

An indispensable asset of the University of Omaha is its Board of Regents. This body of advisors was established in 1931 and since then has made all the important policy decisions of the University. They approve all faculty appointments, new courses and colleges, budget recommendations and perform many other administrative duties.

This year, the Board was headed by W. Dean Vogel of the United States National Bank, who was president. Other officers were, this year, George C. Pardee of the Metropolitan Utilities District, vice-president, and Mrs. A. C. R. Swenson, secretary.

Other members of this year's board included Roman Hruska, Clarence L. Kirkland, Herbert Marshall, Milton Petersen, Thomas C. Quinlan and Louis Somberg.

Future Teachers of America

The Omaha University chapter of the Future Teachers of America is a student organization for those who plan to become teachers upon graduation. The members of the local organization become junior members of the National Education Association.

The group sponsored the annual Education Week convocation Nov. 12 and a coffee hour for Miss Gertrude Noar, who is education consultant to the Anti-Defamation League. The FTA also held its regular membership tea and a tea for high school students interested in education.

Pat Cosford and Maynard Tatelman were the group's representatives to the state education association convention in Lincoln during November.

Officers were Patricia Cosford, president; Leonore Marx, vice-president; Jean Schmidt, secretary; Maynard Tatelman treasurer and Beverly Pace, historian.

Faculty sponsors are Miss Hollie Bethel and Dr. Harold H. Wood.

The Student Affiliate of the American Chemical Society is an undergraduate division of the national group, whose members enjoy most of the privileges of the national society.

Officers were Dale Womer, president; George Ludvik, vice-president and Jean Sabatka, secretary-treasurer.

Gamma Pi Sigma is a local group consisting of chapters at Omaha U. and Creighton. The fraternity recognizes students who have achieved superior grades in chemistry.

Omaha U. chapter officers were Dale Womer, president; Maxine Albright, vice-president, and George Ludvik, secretary-treasurer.

Phi Theta Chi

Phi Theta Chi is a professional sorority for women in the field of business administration. It strives to promote the cause of higher education and training for women in business careers through monthly meetings, talks, discussions and movies designed to give a practical insight into the business world.

Officers were Maggie Claeson, president; Virginia Pappas, vice-president; Joan Haven, secretary and Dorothy Ruby, treasurer.

Kappa Lambda Mu

Kappa Lambda Mu was founded in 1936 to promote a high standard of ethics and music culture among students at Omaha U and to foster a closer relationship among students interested in music.

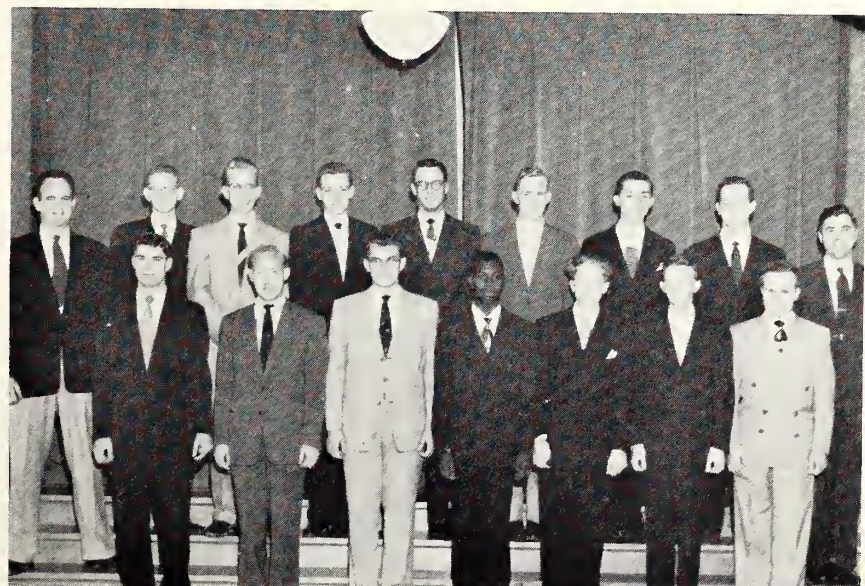

Officers were Betty Gall, president; Joanne Pierce, vice-president; LaVonne Kopecky, secretary; Peggy Bromberg, corresponding secretary and Peggy Cooke, treasurer. Martin Bush is patron.

Phi Mu Alpha

Before its national installation into Phi Mu Alpha on May 20, 1951, Epsilon Omega chapter was a local music fraternity, Kappa Mu Lambda.

Officers were Jack Bourdess, president; John Sterba, vice-president; Irv Jones, secretary; Frederic Homan, treasurer; Robert Dain, historian, and John Vana, warden. Chapter patron is Martin Bush and Dr. Robert Fiester is adviser.

Corinthian Society

The Corinthian Society is a scholastic honor society open to students who have been on the Deans' Honor Roll for at least four semesters.

The most important social event of the year was the annual banquet at the end of the spring semester.

New members initiated in the fall were Laura Dapita, Marlene Gatz, Harry Galding, Frederic Homan, Hugo Kahn, Virginia Pappas, Hannah Scheuermann, Maxine Albright and Joan Thorson.

Officers were Jim Townsend, president; Burt McMillan, vice-president and Nina McEwen, secretary-treasurer.

Alpha Lambda Delta

In May, 1952, Susan Bivin, Jean Miller, Marilyn Rathke, Joanne Rentschler, Anita Reznichuk and Lois Wall qualified for membership and were formally initiated into Alpha Lambda Delta, national scholastic honorary sorority for freshman women. On October 29, Suzanne Bengston, Sharon Erdkamp, Delores Gerdes, Pat Nolan and Elizabeth Nelson were initiated into the group.

To qualify for membership in the honorary sorority, a freshman woman must earn a 3.5 scholastic average during her first semester or first year at Omaha U.

Officers were Carol Wetzel, president; Susan Bivin, vice-president; Joan Thorson, secretary; Joanne Rentschler, treasurer, and Anita Reznichuk, historian. Joyce Erdkamp was junior adviser and Dixie Clark was senior adviser.

Faculty sponsors are Mrs. Mary Padou Young and Mrs. Mildred Gearhart.

The Club

The Club, the organization for all English majors with a "B" average in 9 hours of upper division English, started the fall semester by electing Donna Edstrand as the Club's secretary-treasurer. Leonore Marx, the president, had been elected at the April meeting in the spring. Also elected at the first fall meeting were Mary Ann Conley and Robert Dahlhoff, committee chairmen in charge of creative writing, and Molly Gatz and Charles Watson, committee chairmen in charge of literature.

During the fall, the Club's activities have included reading "Twelfth Night" by Shakespeare, and the "Waste Land," by T. S. Eliot. They have also had several meetings at which the members read their own writings.

The faculty sponsors of the Club are Dr. Ralph Wardle and Dr. Robert Harper.

Sociology Club

The Sociology Club for those students either majoring in, or taking Sociology classes met every two weeks to discuss and work on sociology theories.

A survey of student extra-curricular activities was the special project for the year. Panel discussions and special speakers were featured at other meetings throughout the year.

The club visited the state mental hospital and reformatory at Lincoln on November 1.

Officers for the year were Hannah Scheuermann, president; Roger Cross, vice-president; Florence Izenstat, secretary.

Sponsors were George Wilber and Max Burchard, who joined the club this year.

Brush and Easel Club

The Brush and Easel, student art club, began its first year on the OU campus by sponsoring two art shows, in addition to several teas and parties.

The club was organized in October, and began its campus activities with a rush tea. The first project of the 25 members was the setting of a "Night Before Christmas" window display.

The club also sponsored a student art show and one displaying work done by students in the Omaha and Council Bluffs public high schools.

Officers were Phil Abramson, chairman; Jo Thorson, vice-chairman and Elaine Jones, secretary-treasurer.

Press Club

Newly organized last fall, the University of Omaha Press Club has 24 charter members.

The major project of the club was the sponsorship of the High School Journalism Conference. Over 150 journalists from Omaha, Council Bluffs, and Fremont high schools attended.

Social events of the club included a Christmas party.

Officers were Bill Beindorff, president; Bob Peck, vice-president; Joyce Erdkamp, secretary; Pat Nolan, treasurer and Bob Rasmussen, historian. Sponsors were Clifford Ellis and Robert McGranahan.

Retailing Club

The purpose of the Retailing Club is to foster the study of retailing and to promote a closer affiliation between the commercial world and retailing students.

Executives from local business houses speak to the club at various business and social meetings.

Officers were Don Fitch, president; Bob Rubenstein, vice-president; Marilyn Rathke, secretary and Harvey Cooper, treasurer. Faculty sponsors are Hurford H. Davison and Charles Bull.

Red Cross

A new service club, the University of Omaha Red Cross College Activities Organization, was founded last fall.

In June OU was represented at the National Red Cross convention in Cleveland, Ohio, by Jo Strobel.

Under the co-chairmanship of Joan Olsen and Charles French, students conducted monthly parties in the psychopathic ward of the Veterans' Hospital. Jean Schmidt was chairman of the Handicap Swim program.

Mary Richardson and Don Chase were co-chairmen of the Blood Bank program.

Publicity chairman for the club was Dan Langevin. The faculty advisor was Mrs. Mary Padou Young.

1951 Typical Freshman Boy Gene Ernst and 1950 Typical Freshman Girl Barbara Zimmerman present gifts to the 1952 winners, Emily Runge and Joe Hanna.

Nearly 250 students danced to the music of Gary Penisten and his band at the annual Freshman Mixer, held from 4 until 6 p.m. in the auditorium. Cokes and cookies were served and, at the intermission, the "Typical Freshman Boy" and the "Typical Freshman Girl" were announced by Barbara Zimmerman, Chi Omega and Gene Ernst, Theta Chi, both former winners.

This year's winners were Emily Runge, sponsored by Zeta Tau Alpha and Joe Hanna, sponsored by the Independent Students Association. They were presented with leather billfolds, inscribed Typical Freshman Girl and Typical Freshman Boy, on behalf of the Freshman class and the Student Council.

Other candidates for Typical Freshman Girl were Gayle Anderson, Hazel Liddell, Shirley Izard and Elaine Morgan, while John Anderson, Bud Burianek, Larry Means and Bill Seidel competed with Joe Hanna for the Typical Freshman Boy title.

Among the special guests attending the dance were Dr. Wardle, Dr. Harper, Mr. Beck, Dean MacGregor and Mrs. Mary Padou Young.

Merlyn Fratt and Gene Ernst were masters of ceremonies for the occasion.

This year students and faculty took a more active part in the celebration of Founders' Day, October 8. At the morning program, while pictures of the school's progress flashed upon the movie screen, a narrator gave the story. Each social organization of the campus sang one of the songs typical of each historic era.

Richard Brewer, music director, and Bruce Linton, head of the speech department, were in charge of direction and production. Howard Olson was the student co-ordinator.

FOUNDERS' DAY

Downtown organizations handled other phases of the Founders' Day celebration. The Chamber of Commerce held a Public Affairs luncheon honoring all past and present Regents of Omaha University. A. Douglas Jamieson, president of the Board of Regents at Wayne University of Detroit, was the main speaker. Also, members of the OU faculty spoke at downtown service groups during that week.

Independent Students Association

Omaha University's chapter of the Independent Students Association was host to the ISA Rocky Mountain Regional Convention on October 10, 11, 12. More than 250 students attended the meeting from 18 schools in seven states.

At the final meeting of the convention, Mary Richardson of Omaha U was elected secretary of the regional group for the coming year.

The purpose of the ISA is to provide recreational and political activities for the unaffiliated students. Membership during the past year totaled 320, including nursing students from four local hospitals.

ISA counted among its members many of the University's leaders. Jane Hoff was president of Waakiya, Doug Alford was president of ODK and Carol Wetzel was president of Alpha Lambda Delta. Joe Hanna was elected "Typical Freshman Boy."

Social activities included a Halloween costume party, Christmas party and a pancake feed in connection with the Campus Chest drive.

ISA officers were Jane Hoff, president; Fannie Ciculla, vice-president; Joan Olsen, recording secretary; Dorothy Ruby, corresponding secretary and Doug Alford, treasurer.

Faculty advisers are Dr. Ralph Wardle, Don Nelson, Robert McGranahan and Dr. Frances Holliday.

The many posters which covered the walls of the shack and the bulletin board in the hall and the voice of the announcer who was interviewing students as they rushed from the main building to the Shack proclaimed that the fall elections were underway. Large crowds stopped the traffic in the main floor as campaigners, all outside the poll limits, hoped to sway their listeners with bribes of apples, gum and candy.

We had to fight our way through those mobs of people to get to lunch.

In spite of the vigorous campaigning, only 49 per cent of the eligible students voted in the election. Out of 1,477 enrolled, 719 voted. The junior class led the school in spirit with 57 per cent of their class voting. Sophomores turned out 52 per cent of their members at the polls, and seniors ran a close third with 51 per cent responding. Freshmen trailed with a percentage of 43.

Senior Day, on May 22, started the round of events for the class of '53 with the presentation of the class gift to the school and the planting of the class tree. "Top Hat" was the theme for the banquet held at the Rome Hotel on May 28. Eddy Haddad's orchestra played for the dance which followed.

Caps and gowns were donned for Baccalaureate on May 31. A reception honoring the seniors and their parents followed the ceremonies.

June 1 was the most important date for the class—Commencement. The awarding of degrees climaxed the four years' activities for most of the grads.

The seniors chose Aksel Schmidt to lead them in their final year at OU. Assisting him were Don Fitch, vice-president and Syntha Judd, secretary-treasurer. Student Council representatives from the class included Syntha Judd, Marilyn Sibert, Irv Jones and Ray Hampton, who served as president of the Council.

Faculty sponsors for the class were Paul Beck, Roderic Crane, Dr. Ralph Wardle. Dr. Leslie Garlough was alternate sponsor.

The Juniors started the last half of their college career by electing Duane Post as their class president. Bob Schropp served as vice-president and Jane Englehardt as secretary-treasurer.

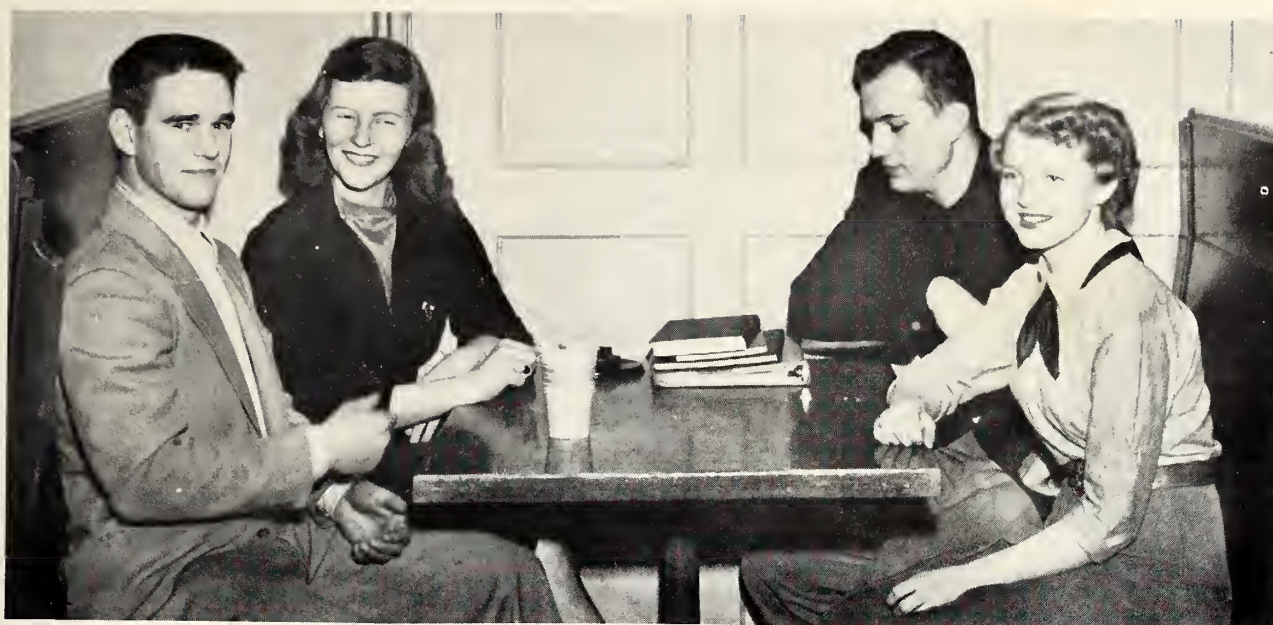

Two of the offices on the Student Council were filled by Juniors. Merlyn Fratt was vice-president and Derelle Blumer was treasurer. The other Junior representatives were Phyllis Wilke and Larry Brehm.

The annual Junior Prom was presented by the class on April 1, at Peony Park. Eddy Haddad played for the all-school dance. An outstanding Junior girl was chosen as Prom Queen by those attending the dance. Candidates for the honor were selected by the Junior class. Phyllis Wilke and Derelle Blumer assisted Post in planning the event.

Jerry Tannahill, Janet Brace, Gene Ernst

Under the leadership of President Jerry Tannahill, Vice-President Gene Ernst, and Secretary - Treasurer Janet Brace, the sophomores started their second year of college life at OU. Jerry also served on the Student Council with Jerry Welling and Joan Willey. In the fall election, Pat Cosford was chosen to replace Joanne Gross as the fourth sophomore representative.

On December 12, the class sponsored the annual Sophomore Cotillion. Mal Dunn and his orchestra played at this all - school semi - formal dance held at Peony Park. Intermission was highlighted by the presentation of the traditional waltz, featuring sixteen sophomore couples. A skit by members of the class added to the intermission activities.

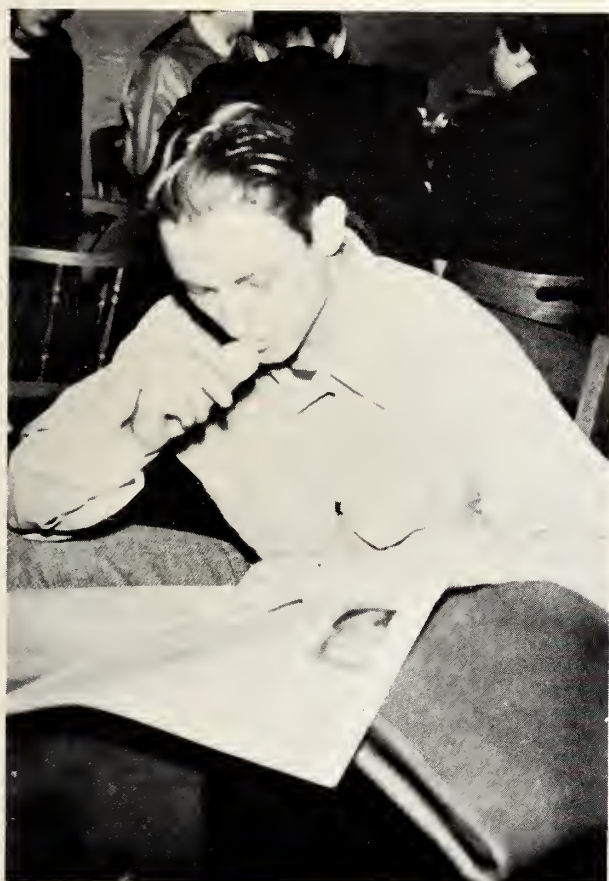

Sophomores who served as presidents of their respective organizations were: Carol Wetzel, Alpha Lambda Delta; Pat Cosford, FTA; Robert Rice, Phi Eta Sigma and Phil Abramson, Brush and Easel Club. Many other sophomores held offices in campus groups or were active in athletics, dramatics, music, publications and debate.

Class of '56

The Class of '56, one of the largest freshman groups in recent years, was soon initiated into the numerous activities of campus life.

First social activity for the frosh was the Freshman Mixer, held in the auditorium on September 26. More than 250 students danced to the music of Gary Penisten's combo. Emily Runge and Joe Hanna were selected as Typical Freshman Girl and Boy by their classmates.

The all-school fall election on October 11 revealed Dick Matthews as president; Don Schroder, vice-president and Rae Johnson, secretary-treasurer of the freshman class. Representing the class on the Student Council were Mary Cosford, Mary Jane Jeter, Kyle Petit and Gary Luse.

On December 3 the second annual Freshman Talent Show was presented. The well-balanced variety of acts was ably emceed by Lew Radcliffe.

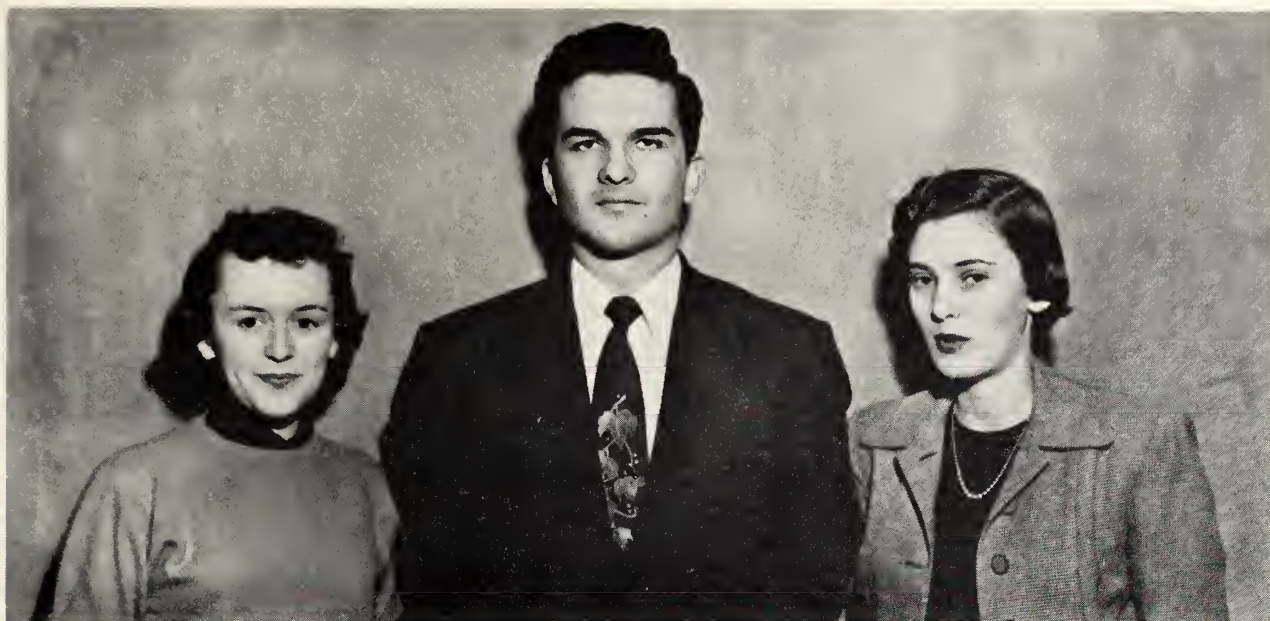

As Freshmen participate in many other campus activities, they can be expected to contribute greatly to the school in the future.

Those names really fit—Connie Eade, Cutest Pan and Jack Fraenkel, Ugly Man. Connie and Jack won the coveted titles in the annual Campus Chest drive.

Alpha Phi Omega, men's service fraternity, sponsored the contest which gave the students one vote for each cent contributed to the Campus Chest fund. A kick-off rally on October 27 started the contest with the introduction of the candidates. All week long, APO members solicited funds from their booth in the lower hall.

A pancake breakfast at Vice-President Charles Hoff's boosted the fund total to $945, fifty dollars over last year's mark. Presentation of the winners at a rally in the Snack Shack climaxed the drive. Jack Frost and Charles Platt were co-chairmen for the event.

KWOU is Omaha U's campus radio station, which broadcasts on a direct wire to the Student Center juke box and loudspeakers.

The station is modeled after a commercial station, with directors, announcers, and engineers. Its direct aim is to provide good music and entertainment for the students at OU.

The station provides on-the-job training for students of radio and advertising. Bruce Linton is the faculty adviser for the station.

The student staff is headed by the program director. Harold Winslow held this position during the first semester, and was succeeded by Dick Palmquist. Palmquist served as production manager during the first semester. He was replaced by Bob Erickson.

Lyle Nicklen served as chief engineer during both semesters, while Lew Radcliffe and Phil Abramson served both semesters as promotional managers.

Irv Jones was music director for the second semester, after moving up from assistant director. Lew Radcliffe was music director first semester.

Continuity director during the first semester was Carolyn Chapman. She was replaced by Bob Dvorak for the spring semester.

A staff of 15 announcers, five engineers, two music librarians, and eight continuity writers complete the list.

An expansion of facilities and equipment in the near future will increase the ability of KWOU to serve the campus.

The year 1952 saw a regular schedule of broadcasting, and the addition of another studio. More equipment will expand the scope of the station, and provide better reception in all respects.

This expansion, along with the enlargement of the radio department, will give students an even better chance for experience in radio and television.

University Players

According to the University Players constitution, "the aim of the organization shall be, first and foremost, to assist in all dramatic productions of the University of Omaha.

"Secondly, to create a strong interest in drama and stagecraft." With this article as a guide, the Players brought new and better productions to the campus.

The annual fall and spring shows were aided by production committees from the Players. Monthly business meetings were highlighted by lectures on the many phases of theatre arts.

The Players are responsible for the backstage work on each production—from painting backdrops to selling tickets.

Students earn Players' membership points by working on these committees, as well as actually appearing on stage in acting parts.

Members of the Players also give readings as entertainment at meetings of civic and social groups in Omaha. The readings may be parts of University plays or speeches prepared for class work.

Officers were Richard Smith, president; Leonore Marx, vice-president; Anita Reznichuk, secretary; Phil Abramson, treasurer and Jim Erixon, historian. Faculty sponsors are Dr. Edwin L. Clark and Bruce Linton.

The distance 102 miles and the time 16 hours, 6 minutes became important to Omaha U students, faculty and alums last fall when 102 of them united to carry a birchbark "ticket" to Crete.

The entire project was set into motion by Omaha Mayor Glenn Cunningham, who is an OU alumnus. Cunningham sent a written invitation to Mayor Fred Kerst of Crete for OU's Homecoming football game with Doane College.

The invitation included the statement: "Just say the word and we'll run it down to you." Mayor Kerst accepted, if OU "runners" would bring the ticket to him in person.

The University accepted the challenge. An alumni committee planned the route, and students, faculty and alumni signed up to run the 102 one-mile laps.

Mayor Cunningham "ran" the first lap, handed the wampum bag to the first student runner, and the two-day trip was under way at about 9:30 a.m. on Nov. 6. The run ended late in the afternoon on Nov. 7, 16 hours, 6 minutes later—actual running time.

The runners followed a route over paved, graveled, and dirt roads through Millard, Louisville, Weeping Water, Otoe, Syracuse and Roca into Crete. The runners averaged 9.47 minutes per mile.

The biggest barrier in the trip was the Platte River, which had to be crossed just north of Louisville. Ken Borchert and Chuck French crossed the river in a canoe, after three scrapes with sandbars.

OU Alumni Association acting president Charles Ammons carried the birchbark the last "mile" and handed it to Mayor Kerst. Kerst was unable to attend the game, so he sent the ticket back with College Vice-president G. W. Lindberg.

HOMECOMING

Booth preparation

The 1952 Homecoming festivities started officially on November 14, and, at 9:00 p.m. the same day, the annual Homecoming Dance was held at Peony Park to the music of Ralph Marterie and his orchestra. Charlotte Longville Alberti, Alpha Xi Delta, was announced as the 1952 Homecoming Princess at the intermission ceremonies.

On Saturday, November 15, the OU Indians defeated the Doane Tigers 27-0. The crowd in the stands was entertained at the half-time by dancers Alyce Beachler, Pat Cosford, Jean Madden, Pat Kavan, Laura Dopita, Laya Edgar, Pat Vorel and Janet Dugdale and the OU band.

The Homecoming displays in the Fieldhouse were open to the public. Winners of the decoration contest were: First Place, Sigma Kappa with their two-way display, "A Toast to the Alums," and "Toast the Tigers"; Second Place: Chi Omega with "Tame the Tigers" and Third Place, Alpha Xi Delta's "Doane's Done."

Homecoming, 1952, began officially at noon on November 14. The annual festivities were begun with a parade in which the candidates for Homecoming Princess rode in decorated cars. The candidates were, this year, Donna Edstrand, Chi Omega; Jane Hoff, ISA; Patricia Johannsen, Sigma Kappa; Charlotte Longville Alberti, Alphi Xi Delta and Gloria Olderog, Zeta Tau Alpha. The parade was climaxed by the annual pep rally on the Courthouse steps.

FOOTBALL

Coach Lloyd Cardwell's football squad finished the season with a record of five wins and four losses. Omaha protected an unbeaten home stand with a 27-0 homecoming thumping of Doane. Other teams to fall before the Indians on the West Dodge gridiron were Nebraska Wesleyan, 14-7; Washburn, 19-0; and Knox College, 20-0.

However, the Injuns were able to salvage only one victory on the road. That win was a 60-6 slaughter of Central College of Missouri. Morningside treated the Indians to their first taste of defeat with a 21-14 setback. South Dakota then followed with a 27-13 victory. Emporia State edged the visitors 7-6, while Northern Illinois State Teachers took a 20-6 decision.

WOLENSKI'S HEADACHE

Of all the "hustlers" and endurance men that are lauded in the athletic department there is a small group of individuals with those same attributes that go continually without much reward.

Wolenski, Marinkayich, "Dusty" and "Skip" Decker

McCord gives Roth pre-game ankle wrap serve as student managers for all of the major sports on the campus excluding basketball which this year was handled by "Bugs" Redden, baseball standout at the University. Dick McCord is another closely related to the equipment crew. His job, however, is centered in the training room where he treats the frequent and varied injuries with an expert skill that only three years of experience and know-how could bring about. The thousands of units of equipment that are handled by Wolinski's crew present one of the largest headaches on the campus.

This group is composed of the people who maintain and distribute the athletic equipment. The equipment room is headed by Mike Wolinski who takes the brunt of the continuous requirements and requests of the various sports participants, gym classes, physical education majors, and coaches. His crew and assistants are "Skip" and "Dusty" Decker, who

Inter-Pep Committee

Along with its chores of sponsoring pep rallies during the football and basketball seasons and the selecting of cheerleaders and their alternates the Inter-Pep Committee added to the yearly agenda two altogether new activities. One was the annual Migration Day which the committee sponsored for the first time, and the other was a sox dance held in the fieldhouse after the OU, Wesleyan basketball game.

The Committee is composed of representatives from the Warriors, Feathers, Band and Cheerleading squad. It is set up and regulated by the Student Council with the obvious function of stimulating spirit in the student body.

Warriors

The Warriors, Omaha U's men's pep organization, has been an active booster of school sports and activities since 1948.

Each year the organization presents a trophy to the "basketball player of the year." Bob Rose was awarded the trophy for the second consecutive time.

In addition, the Warriors co-sponsored the Homecoming rally and parade in downtown Omaha. The group also co-sponsored a football migration trip to Morningside and a basketball trip to Doane.

Officers were Harold Sage, president; Dale Cockerill, vice-president; Ronald Garro, secretary; Bob Rasmussen, treasurer, and Maynard Tatelman, Inter-Pep Council representative.

Intra Murals

The Intra-Mural football season ended with Sigma Phi Epsilon on the top of the heap. Sig Eps use of the two-platoon system enabled them to field an adequate number of fresh men to establish an unbeaten, unscored upon record.

However, the record was not acquired in a "gravy train" manner. The Blackhawks' and Pi Kaps' originality in the use of the single wing made things tough for all who entered the competition.

As verified by the many bruises sported around the campus the competition was no "Tip-toe Through the Tulips" affair.

Women's Intra-Murals

Marilyn Rogers, probably the top athlete in the women's sports department, opened the sports season by walking off with top honors in both the golf and tennis tournaments.

Next on the women's sports calendar was the volleyball competition which Chi Omega won after a heated battle for first place with the Unaffiliated squad. The round-robin play had varied ups and downs in the lower echelons of the league while the top teams, Chi Omega and Unaffiliated, held their respective positions of first and second place clear through the final playoffs.

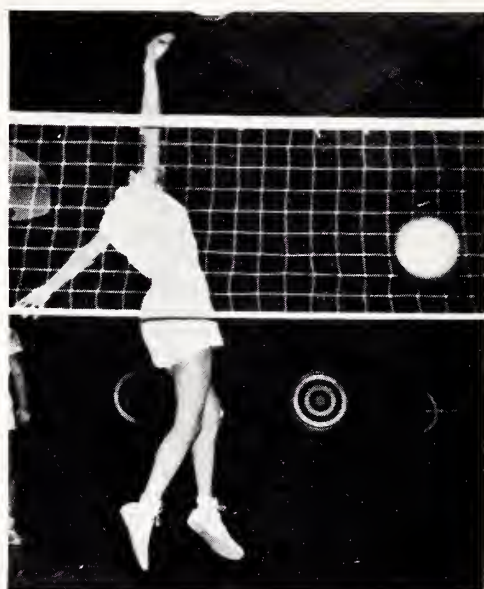

Nancy Land copped the singles championship in badminton action by beating Marilyn Rogers and Sally Robinson in finals competition. The doubles crown was won by Joan Thorson and Marilyn Rogers. The two "birdie batters" thrashed through the doubles matches without any serious threats from their competition.

Bowling is a continuous sport lasting from September to May. During the fall semester the league play was dominated by the Chi Omega "Owls" with the top average held by Corinne Houser.

Two OU coeds featured in the news this year. Phyllis Wilke, commanding officer of the Angels' Flight, was selected to christen the new Convair planes for United Air Lines on December 4. After the christening ceremonies, Phyllis was taken on a sight-seeing tour over the city in the new plane. The airline presented a gold watch to Phyllis during a noon luncheon at the Fontenelle Hotel.

Maggie Claeson represented the state of Nebraska at the 57th annual Congress of American Industry in November. The Associated Industries of Nebraska sponsored her trip to New York City. Maggie was elected by student delegates to speak on behalf of the Midwest on a panel consisting of college delegates and leading American industrialists. At the convention, Maggie, one of twelve female delegates, interviewed General Douglas MacArthur, who addressed the delegates.

FROSH- TALENT SHOW

Lew Radcliffe, master of ceremonies at the second annual Freshman Talent Show on December 3, kept the audience laughing with his lively patter.

Talent included acrobatic dancing, singing, humorous reading and instrumental music. The show ended with a jazz session at the piano by Larry Means. The appreciation of the audience was shown by their applause and calls for encores.

Ila Jorgensen, Ginger Maxwell, Jean Killian, Patty Vorel, June Parker, and Jackie Young were the other freshmen who contributed to the success of the revue. Participants were chosen by freshman class officers and student council representatives, along with Dr. Edwin L. Clark, faculty sponsor for the show, Don Pflasterer, assistant dean of students, and Dr. Robert Fiester, assistant professor of music.

TOMAHAWK BEAUTY CONTEST

On December 9, 1952, Pat Kavan, the new Tomahawk Beauty Queen, received the traditional bouquet of roses from Janet Langhammer, last year's queen, after defeating 32 other candidates for the honor. She is a freshman and a member of Zeta Tau Alpha. Second place went to Corinne Hauser, sponsored by Chi Omega and third to Carole Bell, sponsored by Zeta Tau Alpha.

Band and Orchestra

One of the outstanding performances of the Omaha U band was the annual Christmas Pop Concert, given Dec. 10. The band, under the direction of Dr. Robert W. Fiester, played old and new Christmas songs, then accompanied group singing of favorite carols.

In addition to this concert, the band played at all home football games.

The band also presented its annual spring concert and marched in the Ma-ie Day and Homecoming parades. It also played at senior baccalaureate and commencement.

The OU orchestra, also directed by Dr. Fiester, is a community group consisting of Omaha U students, adults, and students from Omaha high schools.

The orchestra year was highlighted by the presentation of the Bach Cantata No. 4, with the University choir, at Easter. It also played for "Anything Goes," student musical comedy production.

University Choir

An impressive processional of chorus members in red robes, each carrying a lighted candle, began the traditional Christmas convocation on December 12.

At intervals during the narration of the Christmas story by Dick Palmquist, hymns and carols were sung by the University choir. Three students, Joanne Pierce, Jean Madden, and Terry Young had solo parts in the program. An organ prelude and postlude was played by Martin Bush, music instructor.

In addition to the spring concert given at the University on April 29, the chorus made several other public appearances. The group appeared on WOW-TV on March 18, and during the month of April, presented programs at Benson and Westside High Schools. The Orchestras spring program also utilized the services of the chorus. Other concerts were given at Offut Air Base and Joslyn given at Offut Air Base and Loselyn Memorial.

The chorus received new robes for the Eastern Convocation. The women's robes are of red velveteen, topped by surplices of eggshell satin. The men's costumes are robes of red velveteen.

The chorus was under the direction of Richard Brewer, director of vocal music. A new group, the College of Adult Education Choir, was added this year to the list of musical groups open to OU students. The Madrigal Group and Women's and Men's Chorus are also directed by Professor Brewer.

The fall semester of 1952-53 saw the second publication of the "Grain of Sand," the student literary magazine sponsored by the University's English department. This year, after serving as a staff member last semester, Phyllis Brisby was chairman of the editorial board. Other members of the board included Anne McConney, A. Winston Turnbow, C. A. Murray and Marianne Yates. Faculty advisors were Robert Harper and Herbert Berry.

The magazine, made up entirely of student contributions, included this semester the following short stories; "Dirty Charley," by A. Fred Bridgham, "The Sinister Signpost," by A. W. Turnbow, "Crevice," by Jean Janzan, "Thou Shalt Be King," by Robert Rice, "Kevin the Minstrel," by Anne McConney, "In the Mirror," by Phyllis Brisby, and "The Party," by Eileen Brown.

Poetry included "The Executioners," and "Ghost Ship," by F. M. Paulson, "Loneliness," by Lyle Hopkins, and "The Believers," by Jean Janzan.

SOPH. COTILLION

The intermission skit and annual cotillion waltz highlighted the Sophomore Cotillion December 12.

Sixteen sophomore couples presented the waltz entertainment. A skit, given by Roger Dunbier, Jerry Tannahill, and Gene Ernst, introduced the Christmas theme of the dance.

The music was presented by Mal Dunn and his orchestra at Peony Park.

Christmas Work

The Post Office Department and downtown retail stores drew most of those OU students who worked during the Christmas holidays.

Hundreds of men from OU unloaded mail cars at the railway stations, drove mail trucks and delivered the Christmas cards to the homes.

Many women and some men worked in retail stores, while many others held other holiday jobs. Some few students enjoyed their three weeks as freedom.

"Operation Bootstrap"

Omaha U established another local "first" last year when officers and airmen from Offutt Air Base were allowed to enroll as full-time students at OU.

The Air Force personnel carried full credit loads in working toward graduation or credit certificates. They entered the University as part of their regular Air Force work.

Several students graduated from OU after work under "Operation Bootstrap." One Air Force officer graduated cum laude.

Those who did not complete work for their degrees received certificates in recognition of their credits earned.

Mid-Year Graduation

Forty-five students were awarded degrees and four received associate titles from the University of Omaha at the end of the first semester of 1952-53. The degrees were presented at a dinner honoring the forty-five graduates. The dinner was held on Tuesday, January 27, in the University auditorium.

Guests at the dinner included the husbands or wives of the graduating students; the University Board of Regents, and the Administrative Council.

The candidates for degrees were presented by the deans of the five colleges and the Graduate Division. University President Milo Bail conferred the degrees.

Each graduating student was given tickets so that friends and members of his family might attend the informal graduation ceremonies following the dinner.

The Gateway

The fall semester Gateway staff, under the editorship of Burt McMillan, carried on the bi-weekly policy established in the past. A glance at the Gateway showed new typography, a new name-plate and a larger format evident in the fall Gateways. A staff totaling 18 produced the Gateway, including:

The spring Gateway staff was headed by Jo Larkin, editor-in-chief. A new publication policy was established when the Gateway was switched from a four page biweekly to an eight page weekly. Better coverage of the news and elimination of repetition was the reason for the change.

A staff of 26 produced the spring Gateway, including:

BASKETBALL

A 74-61 loss to Chadron in the NAIA playoffs brought an abrupt end to the most spectacular basketball season in the post-war history of Omaha University cage squads. The 1952-53 Indians blistered the hoops for 1,554 points in 23 games and finished the campaign with a record of 15 wins and eight losses.

The most hair raising cage escapade for Omaha fans occurred in the 54-56 loss to crosstown rival Creighton. In that tilt, a last second long shot by Bluejay Eddie Cole dashed Indian hopes for their first win in history over the Jays. In the repeat performance, Creighton took full advantage of superior height to tumble the host 89-80.

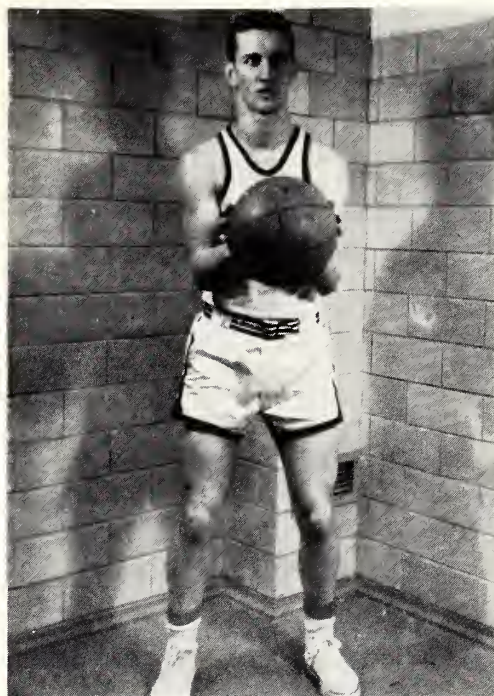

Besides establishing an all-time scoring record as a team, three members of the OU netsters passed the previous individual scoring record. Don Claussen accounted for 393 points, Bob Mackie for 350, and Bob Rose for 221 points.

PAPOOSES

The Papooses are apparently trying to make an annual thing out of high scoring and an equally high winning record. Under mentor Darrell Mudra the scrappy Papoose cagers racked up a 16-won, 2-loss season's record. Creighton's "B" squaders fell twice to the Injuns once by a 69-52 thumping, and again on OU's own floor by a score of 64 to 55.

1,202 points were scored by the Papooses during the season and probably the biggest helping hand given toward that record was Offutt Air Force Base as they lost to the little Injuns to the tune of 102 to 61.

CHEER LEADERS

Probably no group in the pep set-up worked harder or with more enthusiasm than the cheerleaders. They bolstered school spirit with new yells and several pep rallies for the basketball and football teams, as well as presiding at the annual Homecoming rally on the Courthouse steps.

Jane Engelhardt, as head cheerleader, was ably assisted by Emily Runge, Mary Jane Jeter, Gloria Zadina, Bill Pierson, Maynard Tatelman and Jack Frost.

Basketball

Pawnees ruled the roost in the basketball court during the winter mural season. The versatile cagers made up of top rung athletes from the sports department escaped without a loss. The cadet cagers from the ROTC department had to accept a second place spot in the final standings after falling to the surge of the little-better Pawnee five. Ernie Lee was probably the brightest spot of the league champs with his prowess at filling the hoop with points.

Volleyball

Volleyball probably filled a smaller part of the Intra-mural sports calendar than did any of the other sports. Five teams competed in the week-long schedule, with the PE Majors coming out on top with a perfect record. Bugs Redden, Ralph Pettit, and Orville Jensen provided most of the team's spike points. Sig Ep's gave the league champs a scare, winning the first game. But the PE Majors came back to win the other two games and earned the league title.

The bowling season lasts from September to May, and these nine months of continuous competition always produces shifts in team positions throughout the league. Lambda Chi began to show championship signs along in March with a .638 won, lost average.

Interest was quite lax in table tennis and badminton. Entrants were few and far between in both sports. Most of the competition was supplied by two or three of the more interested fraternities.

OUMI Winter Sports

Basketball

OUMI winter season opened in late February with the Round Robin basketball tournament.

Six teams entered the month-long tournament: Alpha Xi Delta, Chi Omega, Sigma Kappa, Zeta Tau Alpha, Independents, and Unaffiliateds.

At the close of the season, all participants were eligible to vote for an honorary varsity team. The team is selected on the basis of playing ability and sportsmanship.

Archery, Tumbling, Table Tennis

Two open hours were allotted each week for practicing archery and tumbling by any interested OUWI members. Archery, with Dona Smith as chairman, held practice sessions for the tournament of individual competition.

Sharon Knowles and Shirley Barnum headed the Stunt and Tumbling hour, in which about ten girls participated. Instruction was available in both open hours.

Singles and doubles matches composed the Table Tennis tournament which began March 15 with Betty Brereton as chairman.

April and May brought the High School Play Day April 11, the All-school Square Dance on April 17, and the annual Spring Awards Banquet on May 11.

'Mural and OUWI Councils

New on the campus this year is the Men's Intra-mural Council. The Council, headed by Harold Sage, was primarily set up to schedule the various intra-mural sports meets.

Problems arising in intra-murals, and protests were handled by the group, composed of sports representatives from the organizations entered in the program.

Any changing of rules and regulations for intra-mural meets also required the attention of the Council.

The Women's Intramural Council is the governing body of OUWI. Included in the Council are the officers and a representative from each of the six competitive groups entering in intra-murals.

At the OUWI banquet each spring, plaques are presented to individual and team champions and are provided by the OUWI Council.

The President and Vice-president represented OUWI, which is a member of the Women's Athletic Association, at the WAA convention at Doane College in April.

Debate Team

OU's debate year was highlighted on March 13 and 14 when the University played host to the Nebraska Intercollegiate Forensic Association tournament.

The University debaters then traveled to the National Pi Kappa Delta tournament in Kalamazoo, Michigan, April 5-9 to conclude their year's activities.

Previously the team had participated in tournaments at Wayne State; Emporia, Kansas; Nebraska University; Midland College;; Denver University, and Iowa University.

Duane Post and Ted Romberg made up OU's leading men's debate team, while Sharon Erdkamp and Jean Bednar teamed as the top women's pair.

None of the regular team members are seniors, so coach J. D. Tyson can expect top teams during the next few years.

Campus Convos

Three famous men versed in various phases of politics and government spoke on the OU campus last spring.

Chief Justice Robert G. Simmons of the Nebraska State Supreme Court was the first visitor. He gave the main talk at the first annual "21 Day" convo Feb. 20.

The second noted speaker was James Barrett Reston, who addressed the tenth annual Baxter Lecture audience Feb. 26 and 27. Reston is a former Pulitzer Prize English Lord Milner was the third speaker. Lord Milner addressed the regional convention of Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honorary. The convention was held at OU March 6. Lord Milner, who is a member of the English House of Lords, also spoke to OU's Town and Gown club while on campus.

Greek Week

The annual Greek Week banquet and dance climaxed the Greek Help Week activities of OU's fraternity and sorority members.

This year's Greek Week covered the week between March 16 and 21. The banquet was held March 20, while the dance was held March 21.

The main speaker at the banquet was Francis Van Durber, chairman of the national Greek Week observances. Also presentations were made of fall intramural awards won by Greek teams, scholarship cups, and the 1952 interfraternity cup.

The Greek Week dance was held at the Livestock Exchange from 9 p. m. to midnight. Lee Barron and his orchestra provided the music. Duane Post was in charge of the dance, and Sheila Schwid was in charge of the intermission skit.

As this year's Help Week project, the OU Greeks painted, cleaned up, redecorated, and repaired an old people's home. The Help Week was the second annual activity of its kind. The idea was inaugurated in 1952 when the Greeks helped clean up Elmwood Park.

A new scholarship trophy was awarded this year. The trophy, a Sterling silver serving tray, was awarded to the sorority with the highest average by the Omaha Panhellenic Council. The trophy will circulate, going each year to the winning sorority.

Panhellenic Council

The Panhellenic Council is the governing body for the four national social sororities on the Omaha U campus.

The primary duties of the Council are to guide women's rushing, handle membership limits on the sororities, and to co-sponsor the annual Greek Week Help Week activities. This year's Greek Week was the sixth annual event of its kind at OU.

The Council consists of two representatives from each of the sororities. One of the representatives is the president of the sorority.

Officers were Jean Salladay, president; Pat Johannsen, vice-president; Joanne Larkin, secretary and Patsy Cahow, treasurer.

The members of the Council were Patsy Cahow and Gayle Fried, Alpha Xi Delta; Donna Edstrand and Joanne Larkin, Chi Omega; Pat Johannsen and Joanne Pierce, Sigma Kappa and Jean Salladay and Sheila Schwid, Zeta Tau Alpha.

The alumnae advisers for the Council are Mrs. Paul Sutton, Alpha Xi; Miss Margaret Killian, Chi O; Mrs. Claude hompson, Sigma Kappa and Mrs. Robert Alexander, Zeta.

Inter-fraternity Council

In addition to the Greek Week dance and banquet, the IFC, through the fraternities, worked in civic activities, such as the special Goodwill drive in February.

Officers were Howard Olson, president; Edwin Marsh, vice-president; Jim Klein, corresponding secretary; Don Chase, recording secretary, and Hugo Kahn, treasurer.

Members of the Council were Edwin Marsh and John Stirek, Lambda Chi Alpha; Sandor Bernstein and Hugo Kahn, Phi Epsilon Pi; Don Chase and Duane Post, Pi Kappa Alpha; Howard Olson and John Courtright, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Merlyn Fratt and Jim Klein, Theta Chi.

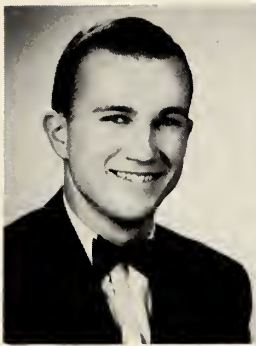

The alumnae advisers for the Council are Mrs. Paul Sutton, Alpha Xi; Miss Margaret Killian, Chi O; Mrs. Claude Thompson, Sigma Kappa, and Mrs. Robert Alexander, Zeta.

Omaha U's Inter-fraternity Council gained national recognition this year for the first time in its history. The Council became eligible for nationalization when the last OU fraternity affiliated with a national group.

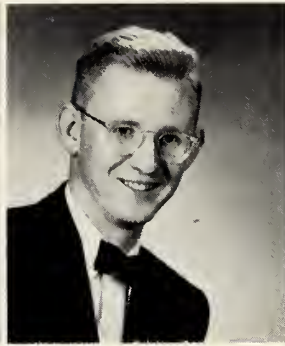

The Inter-fraternity Council's primary duties are to regulate rushing for the five social fraternities, cement relations between the groups, and co-sponsor Greek Week with the Panhellenic Council.

Alpha Phi Omega

Founded in 1925, Alpha Phi Omega is a national service fraternity, composed of men with scouting experience. Its purpose is to provide service to the student body and faculty, service to youth and the community, service to the nation, and service to the members of the fraternity.

Each year APO carries out many projects designed to fulfill its purposes. Highlights of this service program include the annual blood drives for the Red Cross, the card section for home football games, and the Campus Chest drive. For the first time, a card section was planned and operated for OU home football games by APO under the leadership of Maynard Tatelman. Also for the first time this year, the Campus Chest drive under the co-chairmanship of Charlie Platt and Jack Frost climaxed its drive by presenting the "Ugliest Man" as well as the girl with the "Cutest Pan" on campus. Fine student support of this program made it possible to set an all-time collection record of $960.

Alpha Theta Chapter

Besides the major service programs, members of Alpha Phi Omega participate in many other projects. Ushering at the Institute on World Affairs, helping prepare the Student Directory, assisting at Homecoming, and collecting for the Goodwill Drive are but a few of the activities which help keep the members of APO active.

Although primarily a service fraternity, APO sponsors several social events each year for its members. A dance at Thanksgiving time, a Snow Party during the Christmas holidays at Camp Cedars, and a spring barbeque are included, as well as the spring vacation trip to Cimarron, New Mexico, to the Boy Scout Ranch.

Officers for the 1952-53 year were Duane Post, president; John Courtright, vice-president; John Swanson, treasurer; Ted Westman, recording secretary; John Koch, corresponding secretary and Dan Langevin, historian. Committee chairmen were John Courtright, service; Maynard Tatelman, pep and Dick Westin, social.

Faculty sponsors are Harry Rice, J. D. Tyson, Paul Beck and Charles Bull.

Alpha Xi Delta

Gamma Delta Chapter

Alpha Xi's started the new year by sponsoring the annual Devil Dance at Peony Park January 29. Election of King Satan V highlighted the All-Greek dance.

Spring activities included the annual Rose Formal, Founder's Day celebration on April 17, and the Mother-Daughter Tea.

Gamma Delta Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta started the 1952-53 school year with rush week activities. After preference cards had been signed, 25 women pledged Gamma Delta chapter.

Early social activities included the annual active-pledge candidate picnic and the formal Pledge Banquet at the Omaha Athletic Club.

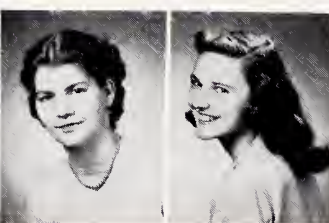

Joanne Rentschler and Barbara Bailey were activated in a formal ceremony in early October.

Homecoming activities were interrupted by the annual Pledge Skip Night, continuation of the group's Shack Shuffles with each of the fraternities, and a co-op party with three campus organizations.

December 18 and 19 were Christmas party nights for the chapter. The first was with the Omaha alumni chapter at the Omaha Woman's Club. The following night, the chapter held its private party.

Chi Omega

Zeta Delta Chapter

Zeta Delta Chapter of Chi Omega took two honors during the Ma-ie Day festivities in the spring. Gloria Johnson was crowned Ma-ie Day Princess and the Chi O skit, "Calendar Cut-ups," captured first place honors in the skit contest. Chi O started its activities this year with a pledge class of twenty-three members.

The chapter took first place in the All-School sing and the All-Greek sing. Jo Larkin was elected Junior Prom Queen at the annual dance and three Chi O's, Ruth Longville, Phyllis Wilke and Pat Cosford were honorary officers at the first Military Ball. Donna Reynolds was named "Sweater Girl" at the Theta Chi All-Greek dance.

Delta Sigma Pi was organized to foster the study of business in universities; to encourage scholarship and the association of students for their mutual advancement by research and practice; to promote closer affiliation between the commercial world and students of commerce; and to further a higher standard of commercial ethics and culture and the civic and commercial welfare of the community.

With the close of the spring semester, Gamma Eta Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi ended its fourth year of campus activity.

For the sixth successive year, Delta Sigs held posts on the student publications. This year's business and advertising managers were Robert Benecke and William McVicker, respectively.

Six members, including Don O. Nelson, OU instructor, were initiated November 2 at the Fontenelle Hotel. During Christmas vacation, the chapter held a party for members and their dates.

Lambda Chi Alpha

On May 12, 1952, Sigma Lambda Beta became a colony of Lambda Chi Alpha.

Since then, the Lambda Chi Alpha's have progressed to the point where they are recognized as being an "up and coming" group on the Omaha University campus.

Following a carefully outlined pledging program, the Lambda Chi's pledged 36 men to the fraternity in the full semester.

These pledges are not merely members of the fraternity, however; each one is required to belong to at least one other organization to expand his interests. They can be found in the Men's Choir, the Warriors, the Band, Alpha Phi Omega and on the basketball and football teams.

As in the past the Lambda Chi's had time to give the annual Halloween party for 200 boys at the YMCA.

Omaha Colony

The social calendar was filled with dances and with informal mixers with the various sororities.

Officers for the year were John Stirek, president; Gordon Anderson, vice-president and pledge trainer; Veston Mallory, secretary; Cliff Carmony, corresponding secretary; Sam Nanfeto, treasurer and Marvin Margistretti, social chairman. John Stirek and Ed Marsh were inter-fraternity council representatives.

Sponsors of the fraternity are Dr. R. D. Harper, J. D. Tyson and C. Glenn.

Phi Epsilon Pi Alpha Chi Chapter

Alpha Chi chapter of Phi Epsilon Pi received two national fraternity awards at the completion of the 1952 school year. The chapter received the Abram Sachar Award for the most active chapter in stimulation of Jewish culture in the community, and a scholarship plaque for maintaining the highest scholastic average of all the fraternities on campus.

Alpha Chi chapter started the academic year off by pledging six men.

A program of at least one social event a month was adopted. Highlights of the season were the October steak fry held at Big Lake in Council Bluffs, Iowa. Every evening of the Thanksgiving vacation was occupied in celebration of the 48th anniversary of Phi Epsilon Pi. A few of the events included a stag banquet, formal dinner dance, and an overnight at Camp Brewster. December, although well filled with Greek dances and vacation, was not left out. A gigantic toboggan and supper party was held prior to the long three week vacation. A sports party, St. Valentine party, and a Shipwreck party occupied the social slate for January, February and March. The yearly Phi Ep All-Greek dance concluded the year. This year's dance, "Regal Rhythm," featured the crowning of Mr. Fraternity and Miss Sorority. These two people were chosen by the Phi Eps from the group of candidates selected by each Greek organization.

other Pi Kaps, Irv Jones, Jerry Welling and Kyle Petit served as Student Council representatives of the senior, sophomore and freshman classes. In other campus activities, Duane Post presided over Alpha Phi Omega, John Vana served as vice president of Phi Mu Alpha, and Don Hansen and Charlie Platt were members of Omicron Delta Kappa.

For the third straight year, Pi Kap intra-mural teams defended the Inter-fraternity Sweepstakes Athletic Trophy.

In other competition, Pi Kappa Alpha won first place in the men's division of the Sig Ep All-Greek sing, after winning a similar honor in the All-School sing the previous spring.

February 27, 1953, marked the date of Pi Kappa Alpha's formal Greek Dance at Peony Park with the theme of "Winter Fantasy." The Outstanding Sorority Girl of 1953 was presented.

Sigma Kappa finished the spring semester of 1952 with one of their members, Mary Gardner, receiving the highest women's honors at commencement. Clarine Lane received the third highest honors.

During the summer, twelve members attended the National Sigma Kappa Convention at Pasadena, California. The chapter received a trophy for outstanding work in scholarship and an honor for having the most girls attending the convention.

After the fall rush parties, which were attended by Mrs. Marion Cole, grand national vice-president, pledging was held at the Blackstone Hotel.

The Mothers' Club held an annual tea October 22, at the home of Carol Miles, past president, honoring the new pledges and their mothers.

Founders' Day was celebrated November 18 at the home of an alum. The pledges were in charge of the program and refreshments.

Sigma Phi Epsilon Nebraska Beta Chapter

The spring semester activities of the Nebraska Beta Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon were highlighted by the annual Sweetheart Dance, held at the Blackstone Hotel. The Sig Ep's opened the Greek activities in October with the third annual All-Greek sing. All fraternities and sororities were invited to the affair which was held at Hill Haven Barn. The event included group singing, dancing and refreshments. This year saw the beginning of the presentation of trophies to the fraternity and sorority who best sang their organization's song.

The year's social activities were concluded with two parties at Christmas and a March costume party.

Theta Chi

Delta Zeta Chapter

Delta Zeta Chapter of Theta Chi was the first national social fraternity at OU.

Theta Chi's were active in Omicron Delta Kappa, Inter-Fraternity Council, Sociology Club, Warriors, Student Publications and other social, athletic and service activities. Theta Chi's won the titles of Joe College and Intra-mural Wrestling Champion. Jack Fraenkel was crowned "Ugly Man." Theta Chi's took four of the eight male Student Council seats. Ray Hampton and Merlyn Fratt were elected president and vice-president, respectively of the Council.

From Delta Zeta Chapter came men who were top ranking officers in the Air Force ROTC and Arnold Air Society. Among these were the first Wing Commander, the first Administrative Commander and seven of the year's fourteen distinguished military students.

Zeta Tau Alpha Gamma Mu Chapter

Zeta Tau Alpha closed the spring semester of 1951-52 by seeing Marilyn Sibert elected Honorary Colonel by the Arnold Air Society and Gloria Olderog tapped by Waokiya. Zeta captured first place in the Ma-ie Day competitions with their float, O. U. Flies High, third place with their skit, Abstraction, an interpretation of hell, and third place in the All-School Sing.

Later, in the autumn, the Zeta pledges opened their social season with the traditional pledge caketail party. During the rest of the year, the Zeta's social calendar featured parties with all the other Greek organizations on campus.

Zeta pledge, Emily Runge, was elected Typical Freshman Girl, while Connie Eade, another pledge, was voted Girl with the Cutest Pan.

Innovations and firsts highlighted the 1953 Tomahawk. Foremost among these new features was the chronological order of the '53 book. A padded cover, the first in the history of the University; a new printing process; a more complete picture coverage of campus activities and less copy; complete numbering of pages; a larger book than ever before and the senior photos arranged to spell YOUR TOMAHAWK FOR 1953 were other firsts in the book.

I remember I had more fun and headaches while working on that book than I had ever had reading a Tomahawk before.

NIGHT SCHOOL

Oh brother, how I remember the semester I had a Monday night class and an eight o'clock Tuesday morning.

Classes at OU don't comply with the usual dawn to dusk routine. Night classes utilize every classroom in the building Monday through Thursday evenings. The College of Adult Education also sponsors accelerated classes at Offutt Air Base which can be completed in half the normal eighteen week period.

The CAE program has been expanded to give night students a well-rounded college experience. Roy W. Nolte was added to the staff this year as a full-time counselor for the after-dark students. Publication of the monthly CAE News and organization of a CAE choir gave opportunities for participation in two extra-curricular fields this year.

OU offices were kept open in the evenings this year for the benefit of the night students. The Adult Education office, Business Office, Adult Testing Bureau, Registrar's, and library were open until 8:30 p. m.

Everett M. Hosman, Dean of the College of Adult Education, retired this spring after serving the University for twenty-one years.

TV Classroom

In April, 1952, Omaha U initiated a plan for getting college credits while at home. The plan, called the "Television Classroom," has been seen on station KMTV five days per week ever since.

Miss Ellen Lord, OU librarian, opened this fall's program with a six-week series on contemporary books for adults. The second series was on family financial management and was taught by business instructors Glenn Lewis, William Hockett, and R. Wayne Wilson.

Dr. Wilfred Payne, who was the first TV Classroom speaker, returned in January for a six-week series entitled "What Modern Man Thinks." He was followed by business instructor Paul Crossman, whose subject was "Your Federal Income Tax."

Government instructor William Utley returned in March to discuss "The Washington Scene."

The Classroom gives persons the chance to earn their credits while at home . . . but they must take weekly quizzes and a final examination to qualify for the credits.

The Nurses

Student nurses made up a large part of OU's freshman class last fall. The students were enrolling under the new University program for nurses.

The girls, 125 strong, were from Immanuel, Clarkson, and Methodist Hospitals in Omaha and Jennie Edmundson Hospital in Council Bluffs.

The Iowa girls were under a program which will give them both a degree as a Registered Nurse and a Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree in four years.

The Omaha girls receive an R.N. degree after three years' work. They may receive the B.Sc. degree after completing two additional years of work.

The University and Jennie Edmundson Hospital are two of the first institutions to cooperate on this type of student nursing program.

Lang Syne Dance

And after graduation we joined the Alumni Association. They invited us to the Lang Syne Dance before we graduated.

Alumni finished up the school year of 1951-52 with three annual get-togethers: the Lang Syne Dance honoring seniors, April 19; the Achievement Day Banquet, May 31 and the Alumni Family Picnic, June 21. Ad Schneider, director of NBC-TV news and special events, received the 1952 Citation for Alumnus Achievement at the banquet.

In September, alumni elected Edgar Howe president of the Association. When Howe was transferred to Philadelphia in November, Charles Ammons became president. Other officers are Harold Poff, vice-president; Mrs. Jessie Jones, secretary and Emmett Dunaway, treasurer.

The OU Alumni Association has two major purposes: to develop, renew and maintain friendships among former OU students and to do all things necessary to further the general welfare of OU.

To carry out these purposes, the Association maintains alumni records, sponsors alumni get-togethers and sends out alumni publications.

ALUMNI

Septet introduces new alma mater song at Lang Syne dance.

John Adams served as executive secretary of the Association until his resignation October 1. Mrs. Jean Pettit, assistant to the executive secretary, was acting executive secretary until December 15. On that date Tom Townsend, former assistant to the editor of the NEA Journal in Washington, D. C., returned to the University to become executive secretary of the Alumni Association.

Highlight of fall activities for alums was the annual Homecoming celebration. Added to such traditional activities as the Victory Dance was the now-famous "Great Run of 1952." Under alum sponsorship, alumni, students and faculty members ran a birchbark ticket for the Homecoming game the 102 miles between Omaha's City Hall and Crete, Nebraska's Mayor Fred Kerst.

During the first semester two issues of Injun, the Alumni Association's official magazine were mailed out. Injun was replaced in the spring by a monthly Alumni Newsletter sent out in March, April, May and June. The Alum Office launched plans to revive Injun as a quarterly magazine in the future.

In January 1953 the Association's Board of Directors abolished membership dues. That action means that all former OU students are now members of the Alumni Association. All former students now have an opportunity to participate in Association activities.

The Board of Directors also authorized an annual Fund Drive in January.

Contributions to the drive are used to expand Association services and to aid the "U."

Dan Koukol, a '49 grad and now an Omaha attorney, served as chairman of the 1953 Fund Drive. More than 50 alums participated as workers in the personal-contact phase of the drive. By mid-February, contributions and pledges had arrived from 11 states, including New York, Pennsylvania, California and Texas.

Final alumni events for the 1952-53 year were the Lang Syne Dance, April 17 in the Rome Hotel Ballroom, and the Achievement Day Banquet, May 29 in the University auditorium.

Kick-off banquet for '53 fund drive

And so Ouampi and Ouahama broke away from their reveries, sighed and looked at little Tommy Hawk playing on the floor. They were glad that their Junior Prom had given them a chance for their first date and that their senior year at Omaha University had brought them closer together and closer to this—their home.

Tommy Hawk will surely want to go to OU. And I know he will enjoy it as much as we did!

Ready for Life's Chances

Life brings chances, both good and bad. Good chances are opportunities for self-improvement. Bad chances are emergencies calling for reserve resources. Thousands of youths are ready to meet life's chances through college training financed by Woodmen life insurance protection. Throughout life they benefit from this financial security and build friendships by participating in Woodcraft's fraternal, social and civic activities.
